

Interested in leading your own walk?

You don't need any experience to become a walk leader, just a keen interest in walking and the ability to support others who may just be getting started with walking.

To become a Walk Leader you will need to attend our Walk Leader Training. This training is offered via Paths for All and it includes lots of resources and practical information to help you set up, advertise and lead walks for the community.

"I love being a walk leader. Walking in all weathers is so therapeutic, it's good for you both mentally and physically. You meet lots of lovely people and they become your walking family."

WALK DA ROCK

LOCAL LED WALKS AROUND SHETLAND

What is "Walk da Rock"?

Walk da Rock is a project that supports local walking groups ("Health Walks") to take place around Shetland.

It is coordinated by the NHS Health Improvement Team in collaboration with Paths for All (Scottish Walking Charity).

The walks are open to all people, of all ages and abilities, but are particularly aimed at beginners or those that are just starting to get active.

A Health Walk is....

A "short, safe, social, local and accessible low-level, led walk"
